

Amy Kelly-Lancki is a cross-sector advocate dedicated to strengthening systems that serve children, families, and individuals of all abilities across Greater Akron. She brings over a decade of experience spanning nonprofit advocacy, higher education, and county government. As Community Engagement Coordinator for the Summit County Developmental Disabilities Board, Amy leads countywide outreach initiatives, cultivates strategic partnerships, and centers community voice in shaping systemic solutions. She believes communities thrive when they are welcoming, accessible, and engaged. With a background in violence prevention and social service program development, her trauma-informed leadership style is relationship-driven and grounded in transparency and a culture of trust. Drawing on lived experience in the systems many families navigate, Amy leads with a human-first approach that places people at the heart of systems change.

Amy serves on the Board of Directors for the Downtown Cuyahoga Falls Partnership. She is also very active with the Akron Area YMCA where she serves on the Riverfront YMCA Advisory Board, chairs the Programming Committee, and was named a 2025 VIP Volunteer of the Year. Amy is also a member of the Akron Marathon's Accessibility Committee. She has the incredible honor of being selected as an incoming member of Leadership Akron's Signature Program Class 43. Previously, Amy was the Vice President of the Child and Family Leadership Exchange (Class 29) and a board member for the Ohio Council on Family Relations. Amy holds both a Bachelor's and Master's degree in Human Development and Family Science from Kent State University. She lives in Cuyahoga Falls with her husband, two children, and 100 pound yellow lab.
